Wayne Dalton Garage Doors The Choice of Homebuilders Nationwide

Home Builder Executive 2014 Brand Builder Analysis Finds Wayne Dalton Chosen More Than Any Other Brand

LEWISVILLE, Texas (July 9, 2014) – For the second year in a row, Wayne Dalton has come out on top in a recent national survey of homebuilding professionals as the industry’s most chosen garage door brand, according to the 2014 Brand Builder Analysis from Home Builder Executive magazine.

In its annual survey of the top 250 U.S. homebuilders, Home Builder Executive found that, even in a crowded field of garage door brands, Wayne Dalton garage doors were the go-to choice of nearly 30 percent of homebuilders surveyed, more than any other brand of garage doors.

“Continuing innovation and quality garage door manufacturing are the primary goals of Wayne Dalton, and pursuing those goals has resulted in our products becoming the first choice among homebuilders nationwide,” said Joe Dachowicz, Vice President of Marketing and Product at Wayne Dalton. “We are honored that homebuilders and Home Builder Executive magazine have recognized our hard work once again.”

Last year, the Home Builder Executive Brand Builder Brand Analysis recognized Wayne Dalton as the leading garage door choice among builders after it moved up from second place the year before.
