HOME FREE is an inspirational home building competition where contestants compete to win a Dream Home for their personal heroes.

Season Two of HOME FREE premieres Thursday, June 16 (9:00-10:00 PM ET/PT) on FOX , and the competition will be bigger and better than ever. Former NFL player, Heisman Trophy winner and sports analyst Tim Tebow will take the game to a new level, co-hosting alongside famed professional contractor Mike Holmes, who returns for Season Two.

"Wayne Dalton is proud to partner with our dealers in our local communities to give back," said Sarah Schram, brand manager for Wayne Dalton. "It was an honor to be chosen by FOX to provide garage doors to the contestants competing to win a home for their heroes."

"We especially want to thank Derrick and his team at Metro Garage Doors," continued Schram. "They were on site and helping oversee the installation of the doors every step of the way."

The first five episodes of HOME FREE Season Two will feature Wayne Dalton's Classic Steel garage doors (Model 9100) and Carriage House garage doors (Models 6600 and 9405). Each week, viewers can tune in as Holmes and Tebow challenge and motivate the contestants to build a new home testing their skill levels, will and strategy. The contestants who work the hardest for their hero move forward, while the contestant who doesn't perform up to code will face elimination. Holmes and Tebow will be with the competitors every step of the way – picking apart their work and demanding they meet their high standards, while also sharing their expertise and guidance to help them reach new heights. When only two remain, the contestants will fight to the finish to win the ultimate Dream Home for their heroes. The last contestant standing will take home a $100,000 grand prize.

Wayne Dalton's doors will appear on the June 16, June 23, June 30, July 7 and July 14 episodes of HOME FREE. All episodes will begin at 9/8c on FOX. The Model 9100 Sonoma garage doors feature pinch resistant door panels and polyurethane foamed-in-place insulation, and are made with three layers of construction. They are also known for their strength, durability and gracious design. The Carriage House garage doors, Models 6600 and 9405 provide charm to the homes with the look and feel of stable doors.
