Wayne Dalton Garage Door Design Center Now Available on Google Play

Homeowners can now visualize hundreds of garage door options on Android devices with the user-friendly Wayne Dalton visualizer app

March 26, 2018 - To help more customers boost their home's curb appeal with a simplified design and selection process, Wayne Dalton— a premier manufacturer of residential garage doors —has launched its popular Garage Door Design Center app on Google Play, free to download on Android devices. Previously, the app was only available for iOS users.

“Choosing the right garage door for your home is a great way to enhance its aesthetic and increase its overall value. In fact, Remodeling Magazine's 2018 Cost vs. Value Report boasts that garage door replacements are the top home improvement project for a high value return on investment,” said Wayne Dalton Brand Manager Sarah Schram. “Our Garage Door Design Center app simplifies the process and allows homeowners to create their dream garage door in a few short steps.”

The easy-to-use app, which requires no internet connection or data to use, enables homeowners to visualize hundreds of garage door options, including styles, sizes, colors, windows, glass and decorative hardware. The final garage door design can then be viewed on a photo of their home or a similar home style chosen from an image gallery and shared with friends and family via email or social media.

“The app is based off of the website version of our Garage Door Design Center with enhanced features like sharper images, more realistic colors and the ability to zoom in and view a door's texture. With the app's more widespread availability, we are able to provide another way for homeowners to have garage door design possibilities at their fingertips," added Schram.
