Wayne Dalton Adds New Painted Finish and Wood Grain Options

Terra Bronze painted finish and Walnut and Mission Oak wood grain options are now available on a variety of Classic Steel, Carriage House Steel and ThermoMark™ doors

May 22, 2019 - Wayne Dalton, a leading manufacturer of residential and commercial door solutions, has expanded its product offerings with the addition of the brand-new Terra Bronze painted finish and the Walnut and Mission Oak wood grain options. The new design choices provide homeowners and business owners added customization for the ultimate curb appeal boost.

Terra Bronze is a medium-brown painted finish available on residential Classic Steel Models 8300 and 8500, Carriage House Steel Model 6600, and commercial ThermoMark™ Models 5150 and 5200. The new color is filling the gap for homeowners and business owners looking for a shade darker than taupe but not a dark, rich brown.

The new Walnut and Mission Oak wood grain options are available on Classic Steel Models 8000, 8100 and 8200 for all panel designs and are applied in a unidirectional pattern. Walnut is the darkest brown wood grain option available, while Mission Oak is slightly lighter and has red and orange undertones. These two wood grain colors are also available in a bi-directional pattern on select Model 8300 and 8500 panels.

“We wanted to produce design choices that will complement a variety of commercial and residential doors for a long time to come. The Terra Bronze painted finish, and Walnut and Mission Oak wood grain options are sure to be favorites,” said Wayne Dalton Senior Brand Manager Sarah Schram.
